

2009 OLYMPIC DAY IN THE UNITED STATES PARTICIPATING CITIES, ORGANIZATIONS, MAYORS & ATHLETES

“The fundamental principles of the Olympic Movement are based on fair play and mutual respect. Olympic Day is an opportunity for the Olympians to share with people young and old their stories that confirm those principles. Every Olympian has experienced a singular moment where the principles of fair play and mutual respect have been central to their life as an athlete. Olympic Day is an opportunity to share the history of the Olympic Movement which is the celebration of human excellence. Young people, the next to be leaders in this world, can learn much from the stories of mutual respect and fair play that are central to the Olympic Movement.” – Anita DeFrantz, IOC Member and 1976 Olympian, Rowing
