

Getting UARecruiter on your device...

From your device, go the “App Store” on the device – search for “UARecruiter” - buy it...

First thing – select the “Account Settings...” or the “i” in the lower right, set your UA username and password into your device. You can hit “Login” or just exit this screen. Now select the “Event...” item.... This should present you with a list of events – once you select one you are asked to confirm it and then it will take up to 10 minutes to load the event (we are working on reducing the load time). Please don't let the device be interrupted during this load. Don't respond to a text message, don't take a phone call, don't let it go to sleep. If you do, the data will get corrupted and you will need to remove and reload the application.

On the left above is the screen while it is loading and right you will notice the text at the very bottom is now just the day and program id. The load is now done.

Here is what you see if you select “Players” and then the screen for a given player.
